About the Conference

The 2-Day National Conference on "Entrepreneurship Opportunities in Natural Products", organized by the School of Pharmacy and School of Ayurveda, DY Patil Deemed to be University, Navi Mumbai to create a platform that bridges science, innovation, and enterprise in the field of natural and Ayurvedic products. It will bring together researchers, entrepreneurs, industry professionals, investors, and policymakers to explore scientific and entrepreneurial pathways in the development and commercialization of herbal, phytopharmaceutical, nutraceutical, and Ayurvedic innovations. Participants are invited to present scientific work that demonstrates translational potential—transforming traditional and natural knowledge into scalable, safe, and effective products that can create societal and economic value.

Conference Objectives

- Connect science and tradition — creating a platform where innovation and enterprise meet the wisdom of Ayurveda and natural products.
- Encourage translational research that transforms traditional knowledge into safe, effective, and market-ready solutions for global health.
- Strengthen standards of quality and safety through scientific validation and adherence to regulatory frameworks.
- Nurture innovation and entrepreneurship by fostering collaboration between academia, industry, and startups.
- Inspire and engage young minds in advancing evidence-based approaches to natural and Ayurvedic product development.
