

Viral Showdown: RSV vs. Influenza & Heart Health

On 28th November, 2025

The School of Public Health hosted a high-impact workshop led by Dr. Nirma Khatri Vadlamudi from the University of Florida. Participants explored the comparative effects of RSV and influenza on cardiovascular health, diving into risk factors, clinical outcomes, and disease burden. The session provided critical insights for understanding how viral infections impact the heart.

